CPA PEP Core 2 Module

Engaging Indigenous Learners

A course tailored to Indigenous learners in CPA PEP

About

The Core 2 Module is the second module of the CPA Professional Education Program (PEP). It develops governance, strategy, risk management, and management decision-making competencies.

The CPA Western School of Business and the Aboriginal Financial Officers Association of Alberta have collaborated with Indigenous subject matter experts to create a CPA PEP Core 2 Module tailored to Indigenous learners. The course will be taught by Indigenous instructors and supported by Indigenous facilitators with Indigenous culture and context woven throughout.

The course will be delivered through a combination of community-based real-time, individual, in-person, and remote learning.

Community-based real-time learning

The community-based real-time learning activities will enable facilitated discussions, create a sense of community within the cohort, and provide opportunities for peer learning and support.

Introductory webinar

At the beginning of the course to introduce learners to the profession and the course.

Hub in-person sessions

At the beginning and end of the course to first create community and then to prepare for the final exam.

Satellite in-person sessions

Throughout the course to enable learners to work through technical materials, incorporate Indigenous content and context, and hear from guest speakers.

Candidate-led webinars

Throughout the course to introduce learners to a variety of topics, including advice on writing objective-format questions, case planning, and preparing for the exam.

Individual learning

The individual learning activities will enable flexibility in completing parts of the course so learners can learn at their own pace before the final exam.

Individual learning activities will include a self-paced e-book, quizzes, integrated problems marked by a facilitator with feedback, a practice case marked by a facilitator with feedback, and the opportunity to write practice final exams.

Final examination

The four-hour final exam consists of objective-format questions and one 60-minute case.

There are approximately 33 locations in western Canada where the exam can be written. If you live in a remote location, other arrangements can be made for invigilation.
