

CPABC Member Dues Schedule 2022-2023

Member Categories	CPABC		CPA Canada		TOTAL
	Dues	GST	Dues	GST/HST
Deemed Resident member who resides in BC, or in another province but is not a member of that province, and
Prime	pays CPA Canada dues through the CPABC	$550.00	$27.50	$400.00	$20.00 ¹	$997.50
Non-Prime	pays CPA Canada dues through another province	$550.00	$27.50	-	-	$577.50
Non-Resident member who resides in Canada or Bermuda, pays resident dues to another Canadian province, and
Prime	pays CPA Canada dues through the CPABC	$190.00	$9.50	$400.00	$20.00 ¹	$619.50
Non-Prime	pays CPA Canada dues through another province	$190.00	$9.50	-	-	$199.50
Non-Resident member who resides outside Canada and Bermuda, and
Prime	pays CPA Canada dues through the CPABC	$190.00	$9.50	$325.00	$48.75	$573.25
Non-Prime	pays CPA Canada dues through another province	$190.00	$9.50	-	-	$199.50

Reductions/Waivers

Please log into Online Services to declare your eligibility for a fee reduction/waiver.

Retired Member - You may qualify for this dues reduction if your age at April 1, 2022 is at least 55 AND your Active Income² for the 2022 calendar year will be less than $32,500. You must declare your eligibility for this dues reduction annually. Dues for this category are 100% waived.

Long Term Member - If you are 70 years of age or have been a member for 40 years or more at April 1, 2022 you will have received the Long Term Member waiver automatically. Dues for this category are 100% waived.

Reduced Fee - You may qualify for a reduction in your membership dues if your Active Income² for the 2021 calendar year was below $32,500.

Pays 50% of provincial and CPA Canada dues	$275.00	$13.75	$200.00	$10.00 ¹	$498.75
--	----------	---------	----------	----------------------	----------

Financial Hardship - If you are experiencing financial hardship, you may qualify for a 100% fee waiver. This waiver category is based on your family income for the 2021 calendar year and family net liquid equity at April 1, 2022. To determine if you are eligible, please log into the Online Services>Fees, Receipts & Donation area of our website.

¹ This tax amount applies to members in BC only. GST/HST on CPA Canada fees for members with mailing addresses outside BC are computed based on the applicable GST/HST rate in their area as per Canada Revenue Agency.

² "Active Income", for the Retired and Reduced Fee categories, includes accounting and non-accounting income from employment, director's fees, and net income from self-employment for the calendar year. Active Income does not include EI, pension income, investment income, support payments, or disability income. All other sources of income shall be considered "active". Income is based on individual earnings, not family earnings.

³ "Active EFR Income" includes income from all sources including EI, pension income, investment income, support payments, disability income, and all forms of government assistance.

⁴ "Net Liquid Equity" refers to cash, marketable securities, and cash surrender value of insurance policies held by the member (or if held by the member with others, the member's share), including investments in registered products such as RRSPs, RRIFs and TFSA's and equivalents, less related borrowings.

CPABC reserves the right to request proof of eligibility for a dues reduction. Failure to provide satisfactory proof of eligibility when requested may result in the denial of a dues reduction, assessment of additional dues and fees, and/or referral to the Investigations Committee.

NOTE: The deadline to apply for a 2022/23 member dues reduction is March 31, 2023. Requests for retroactive reductions to membership dues for prior years will not be reviewed or granted.